

NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FORTY--TWO

ABROPOLLS

OF THE HERSHEY INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

ACROPOLIS

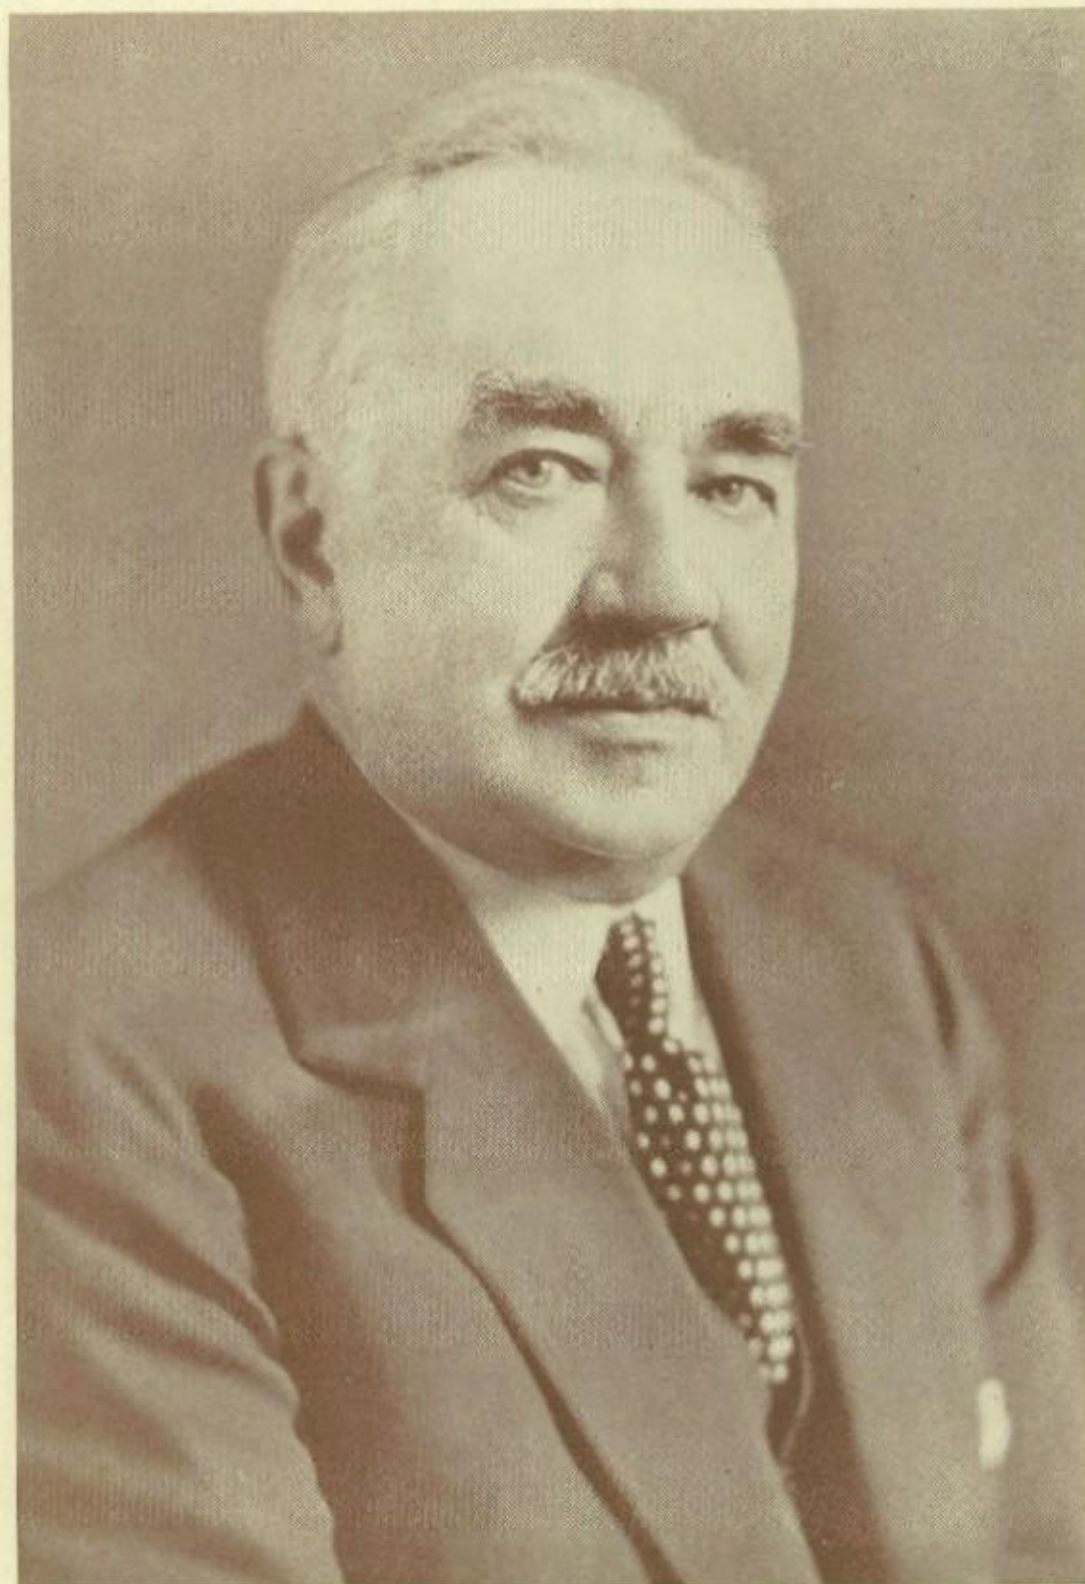

FOREWORD

The hope of America lies in her youth — a trained and competent youth of high character. It is to that end that The Hershey Industrial School has devoted its efforts. It is for the purpose of making us a part of that trained, competent youth of America that Mr. Hershey has pledged his fortune.

He took us from homes that were broken by some tragic event. He gave us a new start in life; he gave us a new home; he gave us an opportunity to enter almost any field of work we chose; and he provided for instruction in those various fields of endeavor. For all these things we are deeply and humbly thankful. To Mr. Hershey and our administrators we pledge our undying gratitude.

MILTON S. HERSHEY, FOUNDER

It is not merely generosity or liberality which characterizes the beneficence of Mr. Milton S. Hershey. It is something much deeper. It is something which only a graduate of The Hershey Industrial School can understand as he leaves the school.

Mr. Hershey invested his fortune in training boys to be men. He gives to less fortunate lads greater opportunities for a richer, fuller life than are available to most boys. It is Mr. Hershey's wish to see "his boys" enter the world and earn places which will be a credit to the school he founded.

We thank him for the opportunity he gave us, and it is our supreme desire to prove ourselves worthy of being called his foster sons.

SUPERINTENDENT

Like a contractor in building a home, we too must bring into being a plan successfully to reach our goals. In Mr. Witmer we have a model for our success. His keen insight and friendly personality are characteristics which we will always remember and which we shall do well to emulate.

PRINCIPAL
W. ALLEN HAMMOND

School is an essential tool in molding our lives. A skilled hand is required to operate that tool in order to produce a good product. We have found in Mr. Hammond the needed skilled hand. Much of the success of our school careers can be traced to his understanding sympathy and guidance.

WE DEDICATE THE

Since our first day in The Hershey Industrial School his kindly influence has been constantly felt by us. We shall always remember his sympathetic understanding in dealing with our problems. We appreciate his guidance in the wise use of our allowances. Our personal relationships with him will not be forgotten. He has won our unanimous respect. In admiration for him and gratitude to him, we dedicate this Acropolis to Mr. Percy S. Wilson.

ACROPOLIS

Mr. Wilson has exerted untiring efforts in our behalf. It was he who cheered us during those first few days of homesickness. It was he who lent his ear to the numerous problems of our early school days. Invariably he sent us away with our problems solved and our minds at rest. The times were many when we needed his guidance in the use of our allowances and savings. He never failed us.

His close association with us is indicated by the fact that he can unhesitatingly call us by our first names. As a symbol of our appreciation, we have dedicated our Acropolis to Mr. Percy S. Wilson.

VOCATIONAL DIRECTOR
EARLE H. MARKLEY

Skilled industrialists are at a premium today. Our Vocational Division is doing its part to meet the demand. The supervision of a large and well-equipped department like ours requires a capable director. We are fortunate to have that kind of man in Mr. Markley. Most of us owe him much.

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL
CLAIR F. HARNISH

As Assistant Principal in charge of Job Placement, Mr. Harnish is seeking to protect and further our interests. His tolerance, patience, friend-making ability, and kindness stand him in good stead in fulfilling his many duties. We will always remember him as one of our champions.

ADMINISTRATION

Problems concerning school operation and individual student problems come under the jurisdiction of our administrative staff. Their efficiency and thoroughness have gained widespread respect for them. Much of their work is unheralded, but it is all done in a very business-like manner.

These men, since they come from the varied executive branches of the school, can present different views on problems and thus insure more satisfactory solutions. Their energies are always devoted to the improvement of the school and to the wholesome development of its students.

High ideals and good morals have influenced them in their guidance of us. If we follow these ideals, we will surely look back with much pride to our school and again be thankful for the sympathetic help of the administrative staff.

FACULTY

We proudly present our faculty. No words of ours can describe their patience and effort while teaching us to the best of their ability. We sincerely hope we have not been unappreciative or too often inattentive in the class room.

Many times our teachers have gladly gone out of their way to help us in social activities or with our individual personal problems. They are friends as well as teachers.

We admire the knowledge and resourcefulness of our faculty, and we cherish our friendships with them. In great part because of their help we begin our careers with a firm conviction that we can successfully cope with the future.

We pay respectful tribute to one of the best faculties that any school could ever hope to have.

CLASS SONG

Harry Lowry and Robert Brown

At last the long awaited time
Has come to bid you all adieu.
We thank each one for what he's done
For the Class of Forty-two.

We think it's great to visualize
The meaning of it all,
And most of all to realize
'Tis better to strive than fall.

Our happy years in high school
Form a life we will recall.
They're years well spent and ever so gay—
Remembered and cherished by all.

We'll do our best for H. I. S.,
And we know you'll do the same.
We all know that God will bless
That grand old Hershey name.

RICHARD MARTIN

Our president is Richard "Dick" Martin. On his broad shoulders rested the responsibility of being negotiator between the administration and the Seniors. He was truly a leader, both scholastically and athletically.

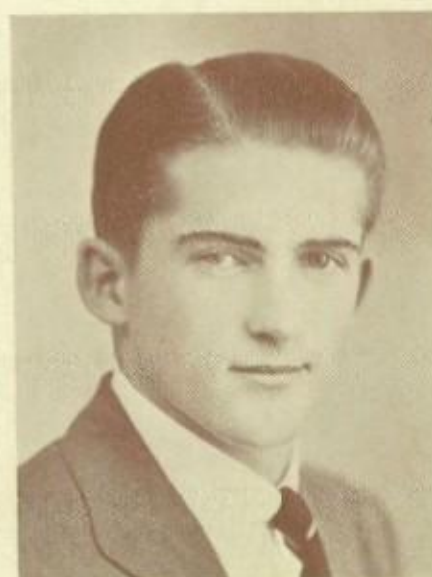

FRANK SAKSEK

This tall, well-built lad is our vice-president. Friendly, sincere, and honest are the words which best describe him. He is bound to go a long way in any undertaking. We all wish "Sakie" the best of luck always.

EDWIN PIASECKI

Secretary of the Senior Class was the title bestowed upon handsome, taciturn Edwin Piasecki. A good sport and an all-around fellow, he is just as good a follower as he is a leader. We appreciate his services.

EVERETT MEREDITH

Here is Everett "Chick" Meredith, the fellow who served us as our class treasurer. He always did his job well, and we take off our hats to him. Keep up the good work, Chick. We're sure you'll go a long way.

CLASS HISTORY

As Seniors, looking back over our educational years in H.I.S., it is hard to realize that the Freshmen of the 1938-39 school term are now the Seniors of 1942.

Our Freshman year was the beginning of the big things of our school career. We were entering high school. It was a new experience and another milestone toward the attainment of the Senior year. Here it was that leadership in both scholarship and athletics began to make itself apparent.

The Freshman year was placed among other past memories as we entered our Sophomore year. We had gathered a little polish during our Freshman year and had become a bit more serious-minded.

The Sophomore year was the great turning point of our school years. It was then that we made our choices of work for the rest of our lives. Those of us with academic and commercial pursuits in mind had the opportunity to take those courses. Others of us decided to take a vocational course and learn a trade. Hunting emery sparks, sky hooks, and the like occupied the first few days of the new school year.

September 4, 1940, found us all seated in the auditorium for the initial day of a new school year. We were now the stately, dignified Juniors — or so we thought. We were ready to make the Junior year our best year. For most of us our enthusiasm lasted for about four short weeks.

The high-light of the Junior year was the annual Junior Class Stag Party. In spite of the absence of the feminine touch, we had a grand celebration. It was our first class party, and it provided us with experiences and a wealth of ideas for the following year's parties. 11-A won the baseball tournament for the third consecutive year, again keeping the title in the vocational department.

As the Junior year drew to a close, a president was elected by the members of the class. As the mantle was taken from the shoulders of the Senior president and placed upon the broad shoulders of our own president at the Commencement exercises, we more fully sensed the responsibilities which would be ours in the coming year, our last one.

Finally, on September 29, 1941, after a delayed school opening, our dreams became realities. We were Seniors at last. After eleven years of ladder climbing, we had reached the top. We were the leaders. Nevertheless, as leaders we needed leaders, and the most capable of the class were elected after close balloting.

Our new leaders' first responsibility was arranging and preparing for a Halloween party which all could enjoy, and enjoy it we did, as we trotted off with our girl friends to our first real party.

Close on the heels of the Halloween party came our New Year's Party. Times Square had nothing on H.I.S. as we rang out the old and rang in the new.

The ending of the first semester served as another reminder of the very few months of school which remained for us. Already many of our number had left school for jobs, and others were preparing to do likewise as industry called for skilled workers.

Senior class rings were soon received as another symbol of graduation and departure from the old Alma Mater.

May was soon upon us, and June came 'round almost, it seemed, with the speed of light. June was the month of last-minute preparation for the grand finale. There was preparation for examinations, for Class Day, for Baccalaureate, and for Commencement. Preparation for life was being completed, and the hardest preparation of all seemed to be in preparing to leave H.I.S.

Then one night we found ourselves before a large audience on a brightly illuminated stage. As the roll was called, each boy stepped forward to receive a symbol of his accomplishments. Commencement at The Hershey Industrial School is an experience not easily forgotten. Now, about to leave the school that has meant so much to us, we pause a moment to recall many pleasant memories of school and home life together. This we know — we are proud to be called Hershey Industrial School boys.

CLASS WILL

We, the distinguished class of the year one thousand, nine hundred and forty-two, being, in spite of all rumors spread by the Junior Class, of sound mind, memory, and understanding, do make, publish, and declare this our last will and testament.

To the Board of Managers, administration, faculty, and employees of H. I. S. we, as a class, leave our deepest appreciation for their help and guidance in our past problems.

To the Junior Class we bequeath our sportsmanship and our New Year's Eve party.

To the Sophomore Class we present our collective knowledge, for we realize that the Junior Class wouldn't know what to do with it.

To the Freshman Class we will various items which we have collected from time to time and which have proved to be of little or no value.

Our class, being richly blessed with numerous gifts, qualities, talents, skills, and abilities, has decided to will them to the Juniors so that H. I. S. may remain in operation after we leave.

"Available" Bobst gives Dubnow half a bag of moth balls. Red Witmer leaves his sportsmanship and a pair of loaded dice to Ronnie Adams, who should know how to use the latter if not the former. Eby's athletic ability goes to Richardson, and Forry's physique to Kuhn.

Eckert wills his wit to Tom Graham. DeWald leaves his ability as a student, plus a book, History of Lititz, Home of Three Noted Products, to Peters. The personality of George Rojas and Dick Martin goes to Joe Mihelc. Chet Mohler leaves his quietness to Frings, while his fellow-printer, Sam Neeper, wills his bashfulness to Pennington. Raudenbush leaves his specially-reinforced chair to seventh-grader Fat Binner or any other three people. Blizzard's persistency is willed to Filepass.

Saksek leaves his popularity to Doc Shana-brook. Ed Piasecki passes his male pulchritude to Johnnie Kilpatrick. George Brown leaves his accuracy and Shultz his business-like methods to Romeis and Dechert, respectively. Myers gives his neatness of dress to Newkirk. Who needs it more? Bennett presents Van Schoick with his G-Man pin, thus making Va a full-fledged member of the National Society of Gas-Men. Russ Schutt gives his smile and two empty H. I. S. toothpowder cans to Shirey. Hendel wills his courtesy to Bill Pugh. Bob Brown wills his love-making technique to Kinnaird, along with Snare's book, The Night-Life of a Dream Boy.

Since nobody needs it more, Pete Benedict gives his photographic knowledge, plus a burned-out flash-bulb, to Stoddard Burg. Phil Keller wills his journalistic ability and the editor's seat of The School Industrialist to Bill Pugh. Collier presents his Acropolis editorship to Edwin Beaver. George Russ leaves his loyalty, cooperative spirit, and a worn spot on the floor of Mr. Bobb's office to the president of next year's Senate. Piontkowski relinquishes his managership to Eberly. Kane wills his honor to Spence, and his spot in the quartet to Coble. Lefsyk and Hartman will their complete library of Superman and Smash Comics to the Sophomores, knowing that these books are beyond the Juniors' comprehension.

Finding no Junior worthy of it, Tom Allen and the Carson twins skip down to the ninth grade and present their boxing ability to the Moyer twins. The Maxwell triplets leave one case of pied type to those printer's devils—High, Mancuso, and Schofield. Bill also gives his jitterbugging to Huntzinger.

Pike gives his musical knowledge and skill to Clair Swartz. Dick Faranow wills his efficiency to Leopard and his "hide-beating" ability to Adam Daffner, '47. To Ivan Hershey goes Lowry's skill at those 88 "ivories." And finally, last, and although least in stature, not least in importance, Al Whetstone gives his German book to anyone who wants it.

We bequeath the following articles, which were found in our treasury coffers at the close of the term, to the Class of '43: one stick of "Balony" gum, half of a dull razor blade, a box of headless thumb tacks, a can of emery sparks, a toothless comb, and a retreaded rubber band.

In testimony whereof, we have set our hand and seal to this, our last will and testament, on this twenty-second day of June, one thousand, nine hundred and forty-two.

CLASS PROPHECY

It's 1962, but memories linger and familiar things bring them back so easily. I was drinking milk, and I thought how it glistened in our milk cans twenty years ago.

I wonder if the other fellows remember. Why not look them up? I tried to phone Who's Who, but a gruff voice broke in, "Wotcha want?" Red Witmer — a telephone linesman, no less! When I told him I was hunting up the Class of '42, he said, "Call Jack Eckert, president of the Alumni Association. In a moment Jack's familiar twang greeted my ears. "Where is everybody?" I asked.

"We certainly have a scattered flock," he started off. "Collier's Chief Royal British Interpreter; George Brown is Chiang Kai-shek's private secretary; Forry and Saksek are Marines in Panama, along with Perry; Lieut. Lawder is on the U.S.S. Pennsylvania, guarding our newly acquired territory of Japan; Capt. Reinoehl and Sgts. Flowers and Bolden are stationed in the Philippines; and Pursch runs a 1000-acre farm in Alaska.

"George Russ," Jack went on, "succeeded Senator Guffey, and Hartman and Whetstone are about to discover the universal solvent at Du Pont's. But say, I don't know them all myself. Suppose you hunt some up, and tell me. So long."

Now where to look? I idly turned on the radio and involuntarily started to tap my foot, not realizing that it was the music of the Double Downbeats, Pike and Faranow. I'll run over to the Carson twins' U-Slug-Em Gym. Perhaps Commentator Charley Maxwell can tell me more on his "Fiddlin' 'Round Phillie" program. That can wait, though, I thought, as I picked up the paper.

There, staring me in the face was a headline—"Detective Chief Bailey Captures Thug Gang." Say, this is a fine source of information! On the Sports Page I find Herb Wignall named as most valuable professional player of the last decade, and Dick Martin as top coach.

The movie and radio page? Sure! The Tom Allen—Bob Brown Sunday-night feud is still raging, and Blair Neal is the recognized successor to Bob Burns. Benedict is Walt Dizzy's ace cameraman, while Hendel projects the produced and directed films of Glenn Schaeffer, which, by the way, star Glenn Schaeffer.

Under the science section I read that DeWald is peacefully discovering the 5th dimension over at Lititz University.

Say, this is a good newspaper! No wonder. It's published by Keller, with Neeley as linotype operator. Here's a plug for Bennett's new book, History of a Hapless Homeboy. Some advertisements he carries, too. Here's one about the Lefsyk and Snare Fender-Fixing Shop—"We do a Bang-Up Job." Very likely.

Whew, it's hot. Think I'll get some air. While walking toward Finnie's Tavern, I suddenly saw Ainsworth and Shultz in their 1942 Cadillac. I yelled; they ground to a stop; and Shultz jumped out, lifted the hood and started to tinker with the motor. "Stop, you sap!" roared Cliff; "nothing's wrong!" "Sorry," said LeRoy meekly. "It's a habit." They say they are Certified Public Accountants, making "just oodles of money." "We're going to see Piontkowski, side-show barker at the circus," interjected Cliff, "and then we're going to Bill Maxwell's ballroom. Adios!" Just then a mass of pamphlets dropped from a plane. They read, "Wagner's Advertising Co. Our Layouts Will Lay You Out!" The plane was stunting. Looks like Mohler, I thought, and immediately he spelled out Y-E-S. Where shall I go now? I can go to Ricker's Department Store, but Jake is probably at Dietrich's public-speaking class.

Meredith is an under-water welder. He always did go into things deeply. Rojas runs the Crumbless Cookie Company, and Kane has a Matrimonial Bureau. Maxwell (George this time) sings for Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Of course, there are two fellows we all know — the Sluggin' Sidekicks. Piasecki retired as undefeated heavyweight champ, and Squasher Raudenbush is still one of the eight professional wrestling champs.

But for genuine happiness, for real, honest satisfaction, let's all visit Maitland Bobst, who is just living peacefully in Shillington with his pretty wife and his ten children.

SENIORS IN PAST YEARS

ATHLETICS

Every year at H. I. S. the athletic clubs leave behind proud records and pleasant memories of their exploits. Star athletes leave behind some goal or position prized by the younger boys who are coming up. As our present stars leave H. I. S., we can see other stars taking their places. In later years we expect to hear of more and better records set by the future athletes of The Hershey Industrial School.

Athletics build not only the body but also the mind and character. The fair play and the clean, hard-fighting loyalty of our athletes on the playing field are recognized wherever our teams are known.

We have thus far upheld the name of The Hershey Industrial School in our athletic activities, and it is our hope and wish that the future athletic clubs of H. I. S. will endeavor to keep it as we left it, or — better yet — attain a higher level.

FOOTBALL

Richard Martin . . . Smart quarterback
Frank Saksek . . . Defense backbone
Coaches . . . Mr. Hoar and Mr. Landis

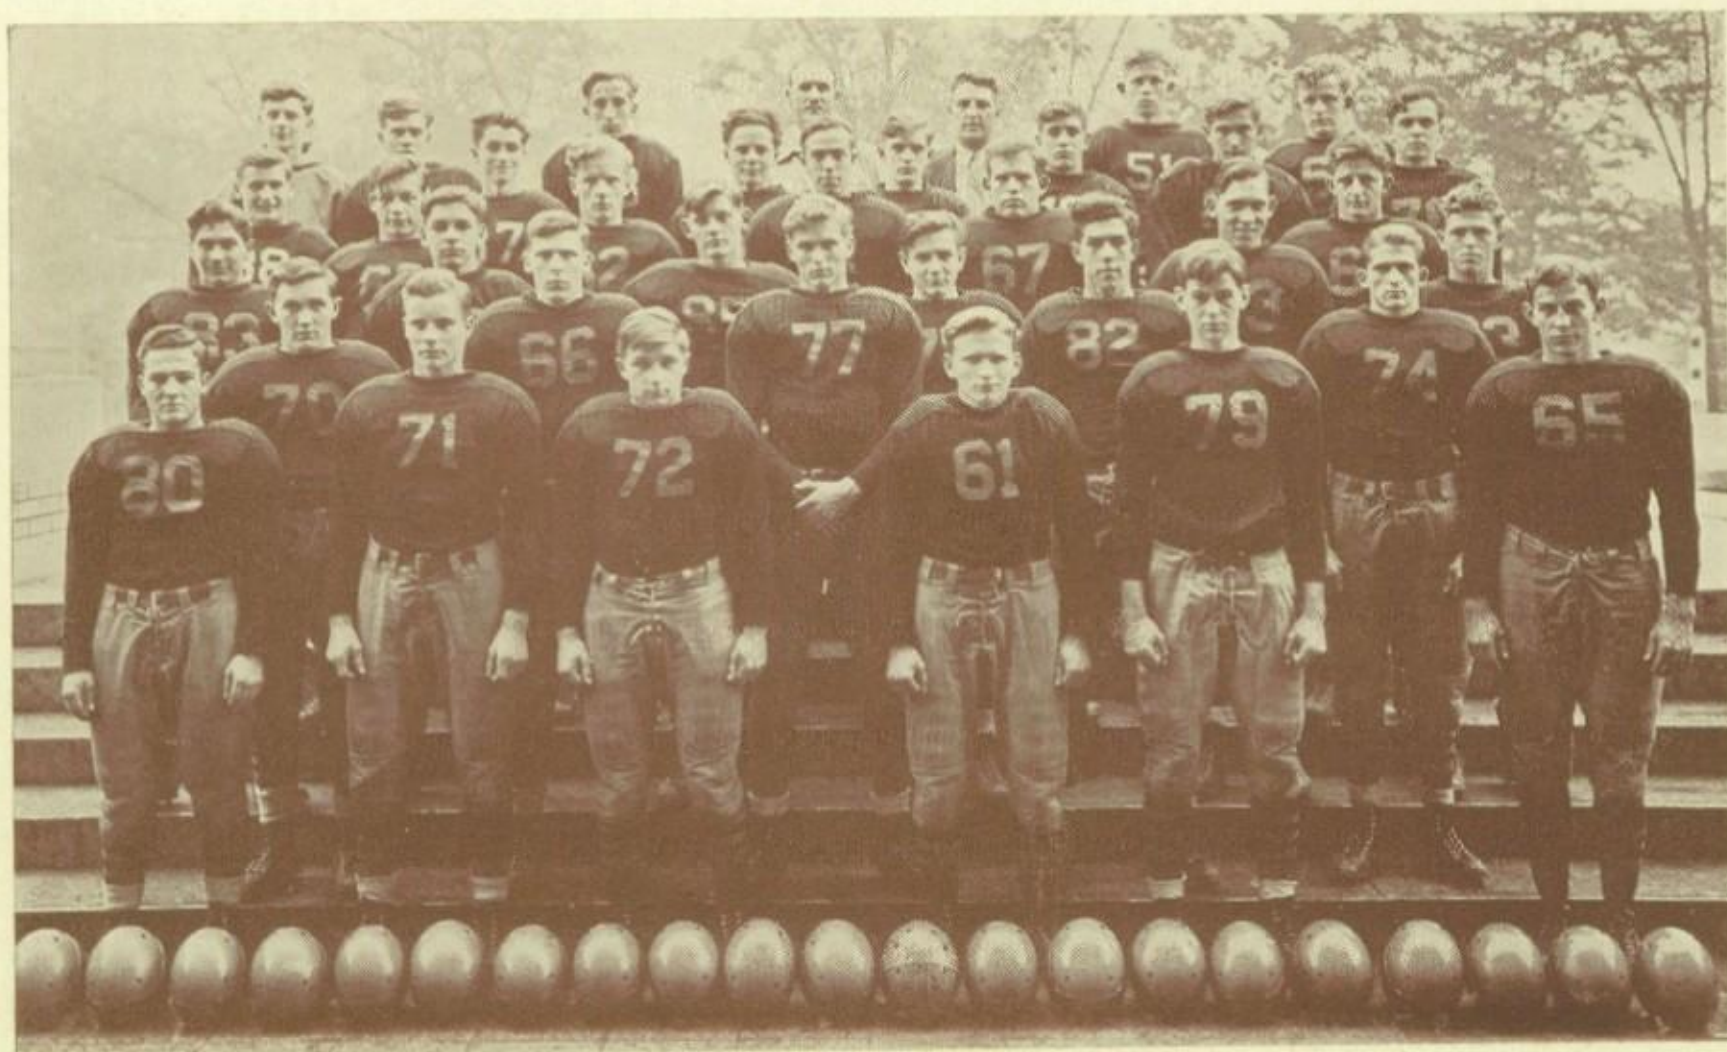

The 1941 football season brought out the old fighting spirit that is characteristic of all H. I. S. teams. Although the '41 team was not the heaviest or fastest team to come from our school, it left behind a record to be proud of. The fight and stamina shown by every member of the squad won the admiration of our opponents as well as of our fans. Long will we recall the clean, hard-fighting loyalty of the 1941 football team.

The infantile paralysis epidemic shortened our schedule considerably this year. The team was consequently a few weeks behind schedule in getting started in practice sessions. However, after school started, the Hoar-Landis machine rapidly took shape. With only a few days practice under its belt, the team traveled to Carlisle to play an exhibition game. Even though the team was not ready for a tough game, it played very well. Our boys scored several times, and they showed their coaches that they had the stuff needed to make a good ball club.

BASKETBALL

Joe Eby School's highest scorer
Coach Mr. Gible

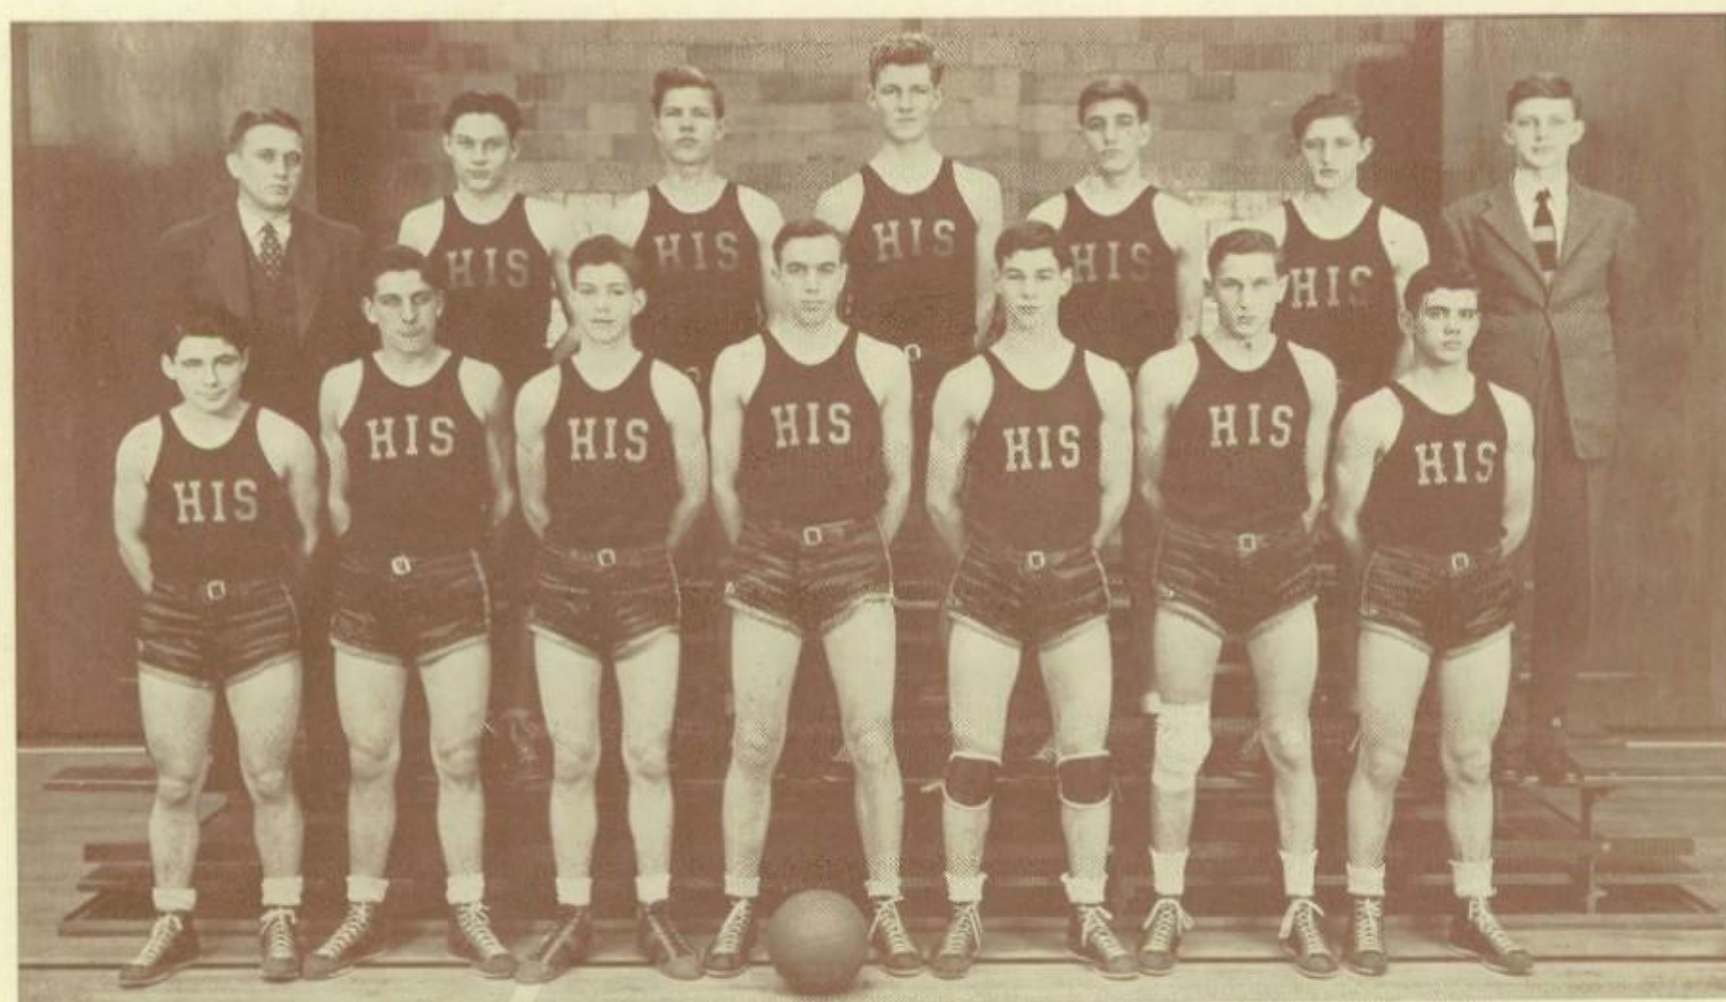

With "high hope and great expectation" we watched our basketball team perform this year — and perform they did! Their thirteen victories well overbalanced their eight losses, and our players thrilled us time and time again with unbelievable shots and split-second timing.

This year school spirit seemed stronger than ever before. The team richly deserved such support, and Captain Joe Eby showed his gratitude by scoring 186 points for a new school record.

Seriously handicapped by injuries and often dwarfed by their opponents, our boys had bad moments at times. However, some of the greener fellows rapidly became ripe and ably filled the gaps caused by our over-supply of strained muscles and twisted knees.

We must mention Coach Gible's accomplishment. With a beginning nucleus of the smallest number of letter men in years, with injuries constantly nullifying his efforts, he somehow molded a team that made a fine record against the strongest opposition ever scheduled by our school in this sport. Coach and team deserve special praise for their work this year.

BASEBALL

Harvey Forry A winner in defeat
William Witmer Star hitter
Coach Mr. Hoar

Baseball has been adopted as a varsity sport at H. I. S., and we are now represented in the Central Pennsylvania League. Our boys went after baseball like ducks to water. In 1940 we had our first baseball team since 1935. The 1940 team was a group of good ballplayers, but their inexperience was a serious handicap in their effort to win first place in the league. Even so, the team came through with a successful season and showed great promise for the next year.

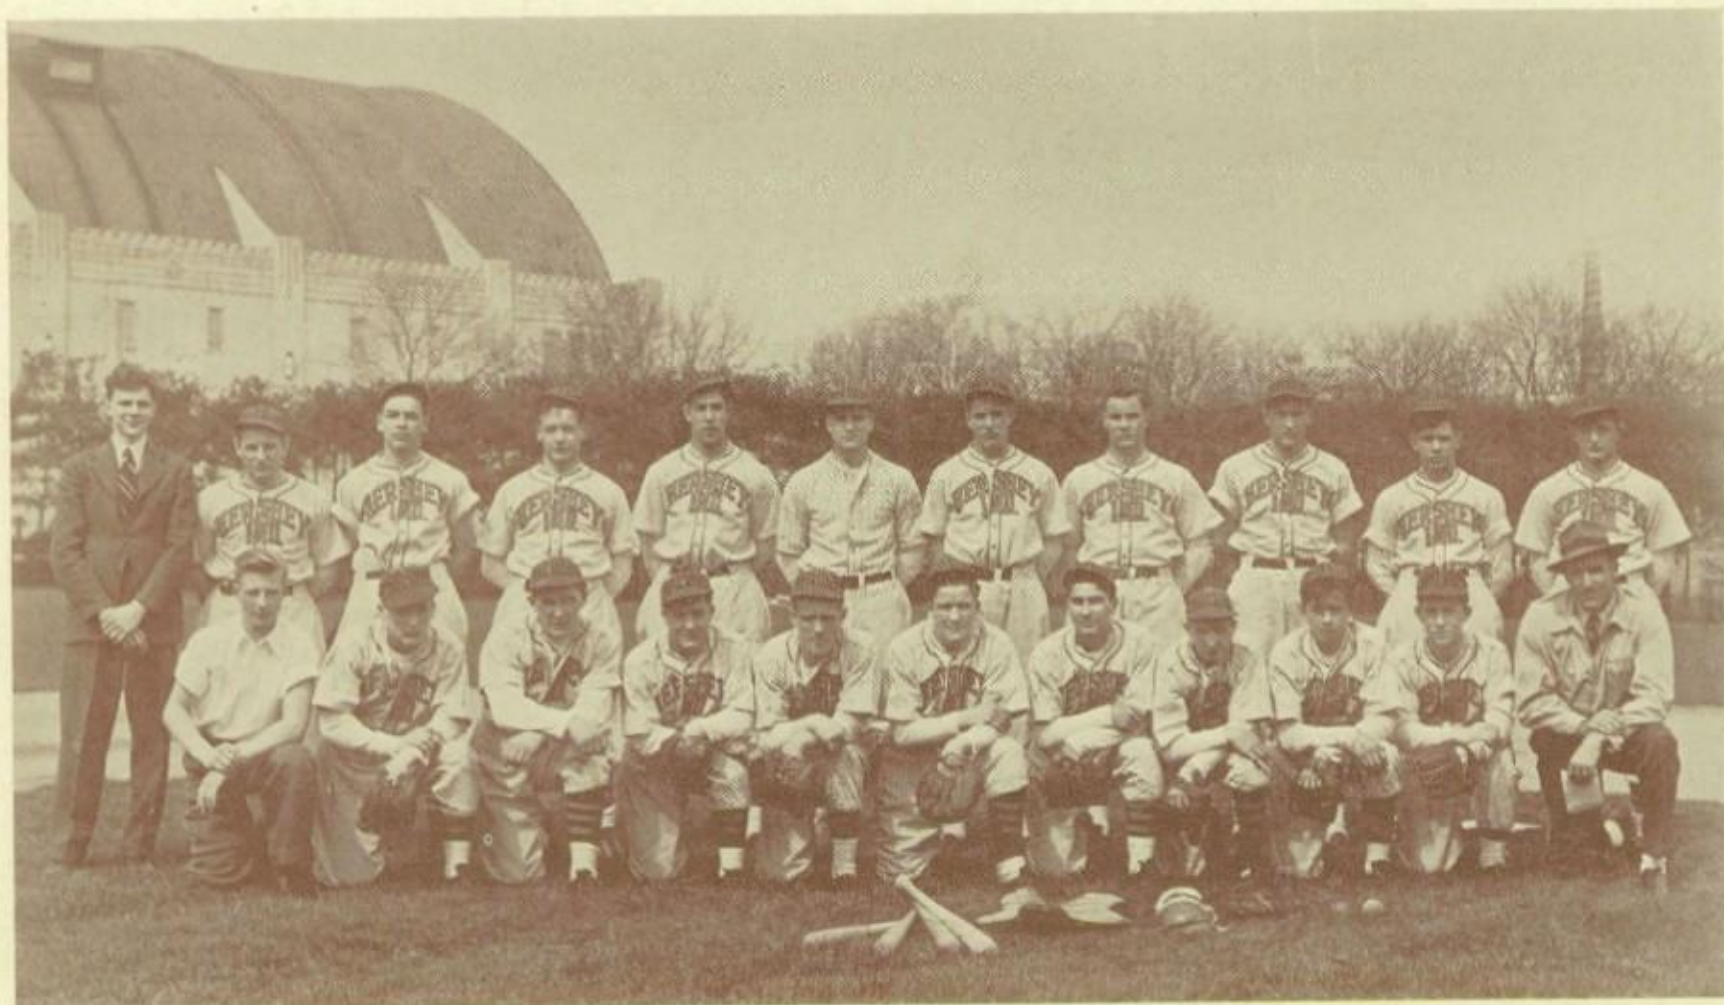

In 1941 our boys, under the master tutelage of Coach Hoar, came through in second place in the league. John Harris High School's exceptionally strong ball club nosed us out of first place by the slim margin of a single game.

This year H. I. S. is looking forward with great anticipation to an even more successful season. The team will be composed largely of experienced players. We expect the best from our team, and we are certain that we will get it.

When the sun shines brightly and the baseball season again gets under way, look out for the Brown and Gold!

ACTIVITIES

The activities in our School are intended to do several very important things.

First, they teach us cooperation, perhaps the most important single factor in a successful life. Almost every kind of work involves contacts with people. Consequently, cooperation is a success requirement.

Second, activities create extra interests. Extra interests or avocations are needed to insure a well rounded life. Quite often an avocation is developed to the point that it becomes a vocation, so that our activities here may have real practical value in later life.

Third, activities are of value in a worthy use of leisure time. They may keep us out of trouble here, not to mention their probable value throughout life.

Fourth, activities help us to obtain a broader knowledge and thus contribute to making our lives more successful. The broader the base and the stronger the foundation, the more likely are we to succeed.

SPARTAN ORCHESTRA

This is the so-called Age of Machinery, but it is also an age of hepcats and jitterbugs.

To keep this modern version of the age advancing, our musical contribution is the Spartan Orchestra. The Spartans have played at many of our home basketball games, in our assemblies, and for dances in Hershey and surrounding towns.

The Spartans suffered a great loss when their director, Mr. Payne, was called to serve the colors, but Mr. Yokum carried on the work most ably.

To these fellows go our sincere thanks for the entertainment they gave us and for the many pleasant moments the Class of '42 spent in listening to their music. We salute all the members of this organization, and we hope that some of them will rise to fame in the musical world. We'll look for them in the dance bands of the coming years when we read the radio logs. We will not be surprised to find some of them in the "name" bands of the future.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

For the lovers of symphonic music in our school the musical department has formed this organization, which is under the supervision of Mr. Yokum. There are few extra-curricular activities that involve more time and effort in the preparation of a program for presentation to the student body. As a result, it is not very often that the boys of the school hear the symphony orchestra. However, when they do hear this organization perform, the quality is such that no one can fail to appreciate the patience of the conductor, the long hours of practice, and the cooperative effort to make a success of this school activity.

Were the great composers alive to hear their compositions played by our symphony orchestra, we are certain they would not be ashamed. On the contrary, we are quite sure that they would commend the efforts of our youthful lovers of classical music.

THE BAND

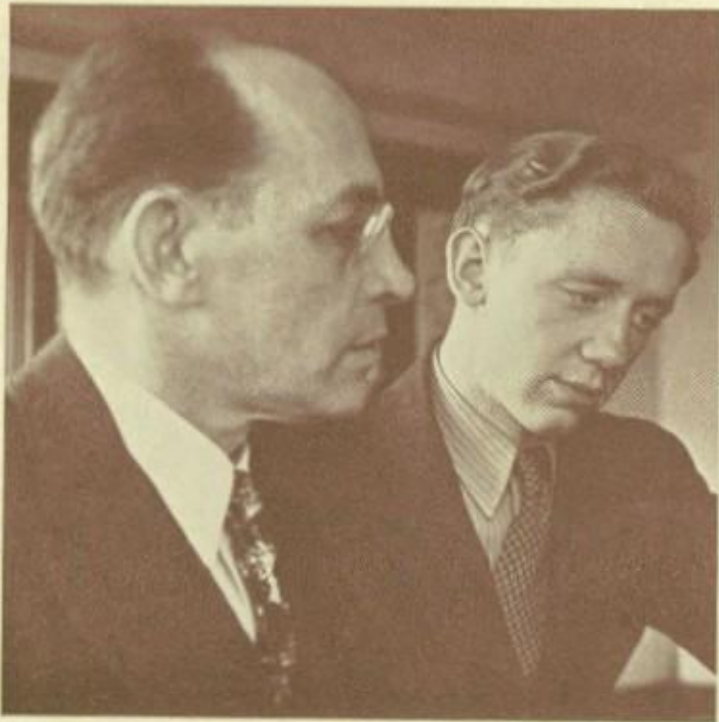

Our graduating classes have usually left many vacancies in the Band. Last year's class was no exception. Last fall when school opened, sixteen vacancies had to be filled.

Under Director J. Atlee Young's supervision, these vacancies were more than filled by the addition of twenty-three new members and three drum majors.

The band's playing and fancy marching helped to maintain school spirit at our football games, especially at half-time. The band won many awards by marching and playing in parades. Every year this organization gives to the public a concert, which is held in the school auditorium. Many of the members in the band are active in the other musical activities of our school, both vocal and instrumental.

The Class of '42 will leave another great gap in this organization, but we are not alarmed. We well know that up-and-coming underclass musicians can fill this gap most ably.

CHOIR

This body of boys will instantly be recognized by fellow students for their excellent rendition of hymns in the church services. Under the leadership of Mr. Young they have put forth much effort and time in practicing church hymns and seasonal songs. Those who have heard their singing know that such time was well spent.

Boys from most of the grades of the school, from the fifth grade to the twelfth, compose the choir. Almost the entire soprano section comes from the Memorial Building and the sixth grade. Boys with deeper voices come from higher grades. This voice range permits song flexibility.

Visitors to our services share the enjoyment of our choir's superbly rendered music, which adds to the quality of our Sunday services. Choir members may feel proud of their achievements so far, and they should do much in the future to add to the musical stature of our school.

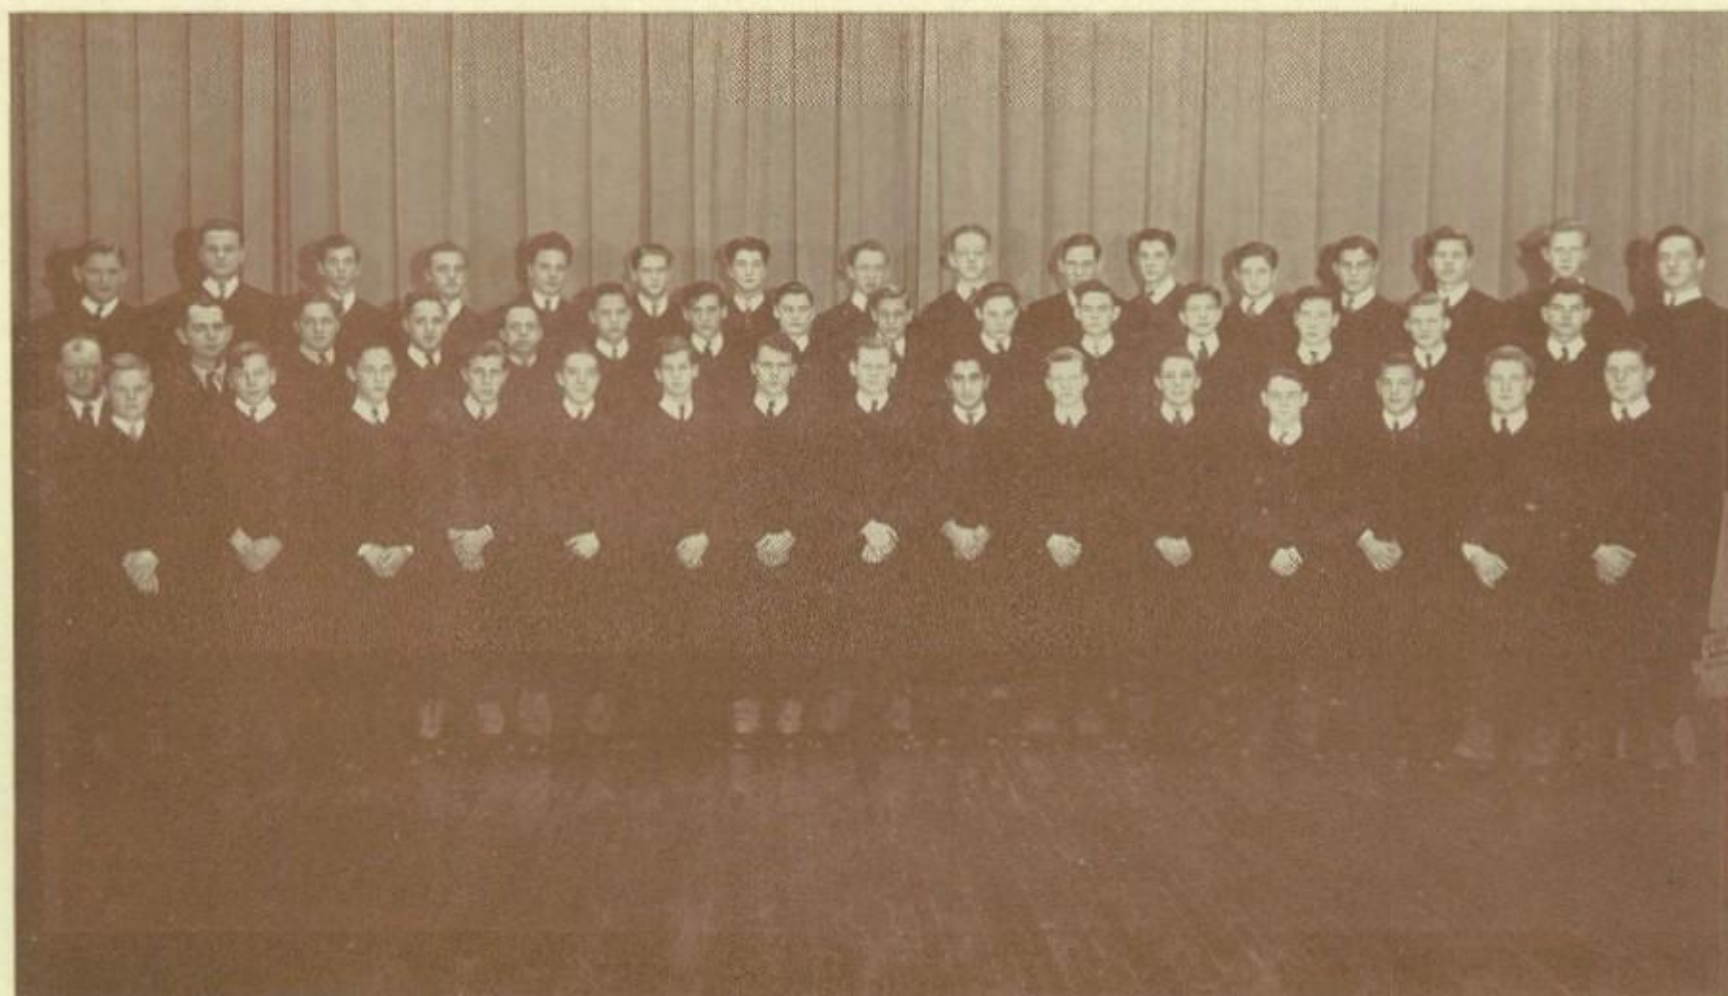

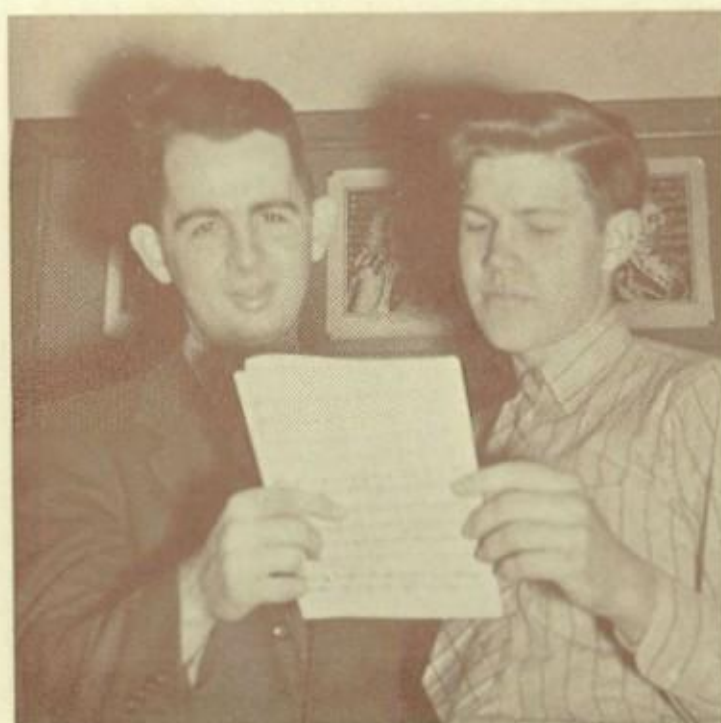

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club is without a doubt one of the most popular organizations of our school. It is known for miles around because of the excellent concerts rendered at nearby churches, schools, and other gatherings of lovers of good music.

The Hershey Industrial School Glee Club is noted throughout the entire state as the best Class B Boys' Chorus for the past three years in the State Music and Forensic contests. We are very proud of the fact that our organization won top rating for three successive years, thus entitling it to permanent possession of the trophy.

The Glee Club members have had a great deal of fun, and they are grateful to their director, Mr. Yokum. At times the boys worked hard; at other times it was hard to get them to work. Nevertheless, they enjoyed themselves very much, and they wish the best of luck to our glee clubs of the future. May they, too, have both fun and success.

STUDENT SENATE

The Student Senate is our law-making body. Membership is determined by election in the five Councils, members of which are the only students eligible to serve in the Senate. This year, under the leadership of George Russ, the organization accomplished much for the good of the school.

The year's greatest achievement was the drawing up of the school constitution now in effect. Aside from this contribution, the Senate has been mediator between the student body and our administrators. Boys in trouble could count on a square deal, and the Senate often represented the majority of the students in carrying their wishes to the school authorities for consideration by them.

The Senate also worked on the seemingly perpetual traffic problem, but we are glad to say that a great improvement has been made. Thanks to a newly established Traffic Court, the rules were better enforced, and the traffic hazard has been greatly decreased.

INDUSTRIALIST STAFF

The School Industrialist had new faculty sponsorship this year. Mr. Dissinger, originator of our paper, resigned as managing editor, and Mr. Mincemoyer succeeded him. Philip Keller continued our tradition of excellent student editors. The paper shortage compelled a four-page reduction, but the staff feel that this handicap was at least partly offset by a new lay-out.

Our school paper is a good activity for about seventy-five boys. It is also a valuable link between our school and its alumni and friends, as is indicated by the mailing list of about 700 paid subscriptions — a remarkable total for a senior-high school as young as ours.

A tradition of dependable staff membership has been firmly established, and the present senior staff members have no fear that the tradition will not be continued next year. Without hesitation they turn over their responsibilities to their successors.

PAGEANTS

We are very proud of our pageants. They form an activity in which a large number of boys of various ages can take part.

Christmas and Easter pageants are now alternated. They have become so elaborate that it is not practicable to have both yearly.

Two showings in the Community Theatre have become necessary to accommodate everyone.

Our chaplain, Mr. Scoville, writes and directs the pageants, which seem to improve yearly. He is ably assisted by Mr. Jenemann, who co-directs and also has charge of scenery and make-up.

Mr. Yokum directs the vocal music between scenes; Mr. Young provides a background of organ music; and the carpenters, electricians, and Arts & Crafts boys also do their part.

Our pageants form our most comprehensive and also one of our most appreciated activities. The best proof of this statement is that about 3500 people attended this year's Easter pageant.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen are the underclassmen. Some of their duties are hard, and some they find quite enjoyable.

The training of an underclassman begins in the Freshman year. In this year he begins to realize the steps to be taken to graduate with his classmates.

The Sophomore year is considered the easiest senior-high-school year, but this does not mean a fellow can lay aside his books and learn enough merely by listening to his teachers. He should also learn how to study by himself.

The Junior year should be the most serious year for the underclassmen because the next year is the last and most important one.

The Juniors must work harder than any other underclassmen to reach their goal. That goal is entry into the Senior year, which, if successful, will result in a reward well worth having—a diploma of The Hershey Industrial School.

JUNIOR CLASS

Next year's cream of the crop will be picked from this group of young fellows. As the Senior Class of 1943, they are nearing the beginning of our long trail. Their high-school days will soon be ended, and they will have to venture out on the highways of life as we are about to do.

In football, some of these fellows were on the varsity line-up.

In basketball and baseball, an appreciable number earned regular positions, and some saw plenty of action. In music, both vocal and instrumental, many Juniors were outstanding in their work.

This class has already made a real contribution, and we know they will do even more next year.

As we, the Class of 1942, look at the Junior Class — so soon to be our successors — we say that they did their best.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The fact that the summer vacation was extended a month did not stall this year's Sophomores. These fellows shifted to a higher gear and adjusted themselves to the duties of upholding the name of the Sophomore Class. These new duties were, of course, set before them by the Junior Class.

Many have followed in the different fields of music and sport. They contributed members to the Spartan Orchestra, Band, Symphony Orchestra, and Glee Club. Those who starred in H. I. S. sports are Gordon Gerhart, James Eby, Francis McKniff, Harry Heineman, John Martin, and Torrance Hess. Many other Sophomores participated in sports, but their names have not been included among those mentioned.

We members of the Class of 1942 feel certain that the present Sophomore Class will finish this school year with the usual high standard of that grade honorably maintained.

FRESHMAN CLASS

The members of the Class of 1945 are no longer green. They realize that in a few years they too will be graduating. Next year they begin their senior-high-school careers.

Every fellow has his choice of course to make — vocational, academic, or commercial. His choice may mean a complete change in his environment and studies for the next three years and for the rest of his life. He should choose carefully.

The Freshman Class has been successful scholastically, and its members have already participated in most of the major school activities. The group shows great promise, and we look forward to great things from them in the future.

The Class of 1942 hope the Freshmen realize that next year they will have to maintain the high standards of the Sophomores. To do so will require even more interest in both studies and activities, but we are sure they will not fail us.
